

SUMMER OUTING CAMPAIGN STARTS

Committee Begins Its Financial Work.

IDEAL PROGRAM PLANNED

Camp Good Will to Be Opened for Children Soon After School Closes.

The financial campaign of the summer outing committee has been started. The work planned for the coming summer is set forth very clearly in the new circular which will be used in a few days. This shows the rapid and very satisfactory development of the past few years and the conservative though ideal program before the committee for the coming season. Car rides for those who have been shut in through the winter and can afford an outing at their own expense will be begun as soon as the funds in the hands of the committee justify it.

Camp Good Will.

Two extensive day outings have already been planned and others will be arranged for as rapidly as possible. Camp Good Will is to open to the children shortly after schools close, and from that time until the middle of September will continue to receive and take care of its one hundred children a week, giving to each one a two weeks' vacation. The committee hopes that the friends of this outing work may commence to plan concerning volunteer service, special outings, and contributions of goods and money. All parts of the work are open to inspection and friends are urged to visit the camp and see for themselves what is planned or what is being done and to give such help as they are able.

Raising of Funds.

In raising funds the committee will send out letters of appeal; place miniature tents in different Sunday schools to help the children to realize the real purpose of this fresh air work and tent colony and, with the assistance of the newspapers and personal visits, enable those who believe in this charity of prevention to co-operate in whatever manner seems desirable.

The treasurer of the committee, John B. Sleman, Jr., Ed of Building, acknowledges with thanks the contribution of $50 just received from Abraham Lissner.

EPSOM DERBY WENT TO RANK OUTSIDER

Spearpoint, 20 to 1, Maher Up, Won. Lally, Favorite, and Nulli Secuads Also Ran.

LONDON, May 30.—Sir Tatton Sykes' Spearpoint, an outsider, with Danny Maher up, against which as good odds as 20 to 1 could be obtained, carried off the blue ribbon of the British turf today, leading the field in the great Epsom Derby by a safe margin over Picton, at 7 to 1, with the Duke of Westminster's Troutbeck, at 25 to 1, in third place.

Lally, the favorite, was unplaced, while Nulli Secundus, on whom King Edward pinned his faith, was among the "also rans." The winner had not been seriously considered by any of the expert handicappers, though since the withdrawal of Sir Daniel Cooper's Flair it had been conceded that it was the most open Derby run in years with almost any horse in the race a possible winner. The event has justified this much of the judgment of the experts.

The usual great crowd saw the premier horse race of the world run today. Every class of society from the royal family to "Arty and his 'Arriet" was represented.

Many Americans were in the crowd, and as a rule they were liberal patrons of the bookmakers. Few of them cashed on the Derby.

DRANK WOOD ALCOHOL. TWO DEAD, ONE DYING

NORTHPORT, L. I., May 30.—As the result of drinking wood alcohol Charles Bushingsky, a farmer, and John Dominick, his helper, at West Hills are dead, and a third man is not expected to live. A number of others who also indulged will recover.

On the testimony of the survivors Coroner Gibson has held Druggist Hecht for a hearing tomorrow. It is alleged that he sold them wood alcohol.

METHODS OF BEEF TRUST DENOUNCED IN GERMANY

BERLIN, May 30.—The tainted meat disclosures which have been made in the United States have aroused a great deal of interest throughout Germany and are the subject of many editorial comments in the newspapers today. The beef trust is roundly denounced by most of the journals which deal with the subject and some of the papers, without discriminating, condemn all American business institutions.

The Morgen Post asserts that the beef trust magnates were murderers. The Tagblatt remarks that this is a new form of the "American peril." European purchasers must now understand that death lurks in every tin of potent meat imported from America.

The Reichsbote states that the trust showed frivolous disregard for the health and lives of millions of people throughout the world, who purchased American tinned meats.

The Vorwerts says that an American trust is synonymous with a gang of murderers and criminals and the Neustadt by stating that America is 2,000 years behind the times in regard to questions of public morality. The remainder of civilized people recognize Christianity, but America has unblushingly adopted such as the inspiring spirit of public life.

CONDITION OF DAVIT SHOWS NO IMPROVEMENT

DUBLIN, Ireland, May 30.—There is no change today of Michael Davitt, who is dangerously ill here.

PLOT TO KILL KING ON WEDDING DAY

LONDON, May 30.—The Evening Standard says a plot has been hatched to kill King Alfonso of Spain tomorrow. The police are acquainted with the machinations of the conspirators and are keeping a close watch on every known anarchist who is going to Madrid. A well-known Spanish anarchist is at the head of the plot. It is known that he started for Spain a few days ago, accompanied by eight companions.

The plan of the conspirators is to have fifty European anarchists stationed along the line of the wedding procession tomorrow and the one who gets an opportunity will throw a bomb at the King. Five men provided with bombs are to be stationed outside the church in which the ceremony is to be performed for a chance to throw the bomb. The details of the plot became known through a conversation which was accidentally overheard yesterday.

JOSEPHINE SHAMMING, SANITY EXPERT SAYS

Terranova Girl Lied When She Told of "Voices," Dr. Flint Declares.

NEW YORK, May 30.—"Josephine Terranova's statements about her hallucinations were false. I believe she was shamming."

This was the positive statement by Dr. Austin Flint, the alienist, at the girl's trial, and it is the position the prosecution will take in asking the jury to find the girl guilty of murder.

Dr. Flint declares he believes the girl sane, and that she knew she was doing wrong when she killed her aunt and uncle, and that she lied when she told about the "voices."

Dr. Flint's testimony was a clear exhibition of the lines the prosecution will take when the final address is made to the jury.

When court reconvenes tomorrow the taking of expert testimony will be continued. Justice Scott is anxious to finish the case this week, and the case may go to the jury tomorrow night.

LONGWORTH LOSES FIGHT FOR DIPLOMATIC HOMES

Representative Longworth's long fight for a million-dollar appropriation to start the work of providing suitable permanent residences for American diplomatic representatives in foreign capitals and consular service bills, on a point of order, but not till after it had been discussed in an enlightening way.

Mr. Shirley of Kentucky protested against the extravagance of the million-dollar appropriation for the United States. Mr. Burleson of Texas declared that diplomatic appointments by President Roosevelt had proved him a section of the South had just three such officers, while the District of Columbia alone had four, the central East, 33, New England, 14, the middle West, 22, the Pacific slope, 8.

SAYS UNITED STATES WILL ANNEX PANAMA

PANAMA, May 30.—Senor Ariza, former secretary of state, in a statement made today, says that the annexation of Panama to the United States will come some time as a natural consequence, and the sooner this happens the better it will be.

AMERICAN TENNIS TEAM SCARE OFF FRENCHMEN

LONDON, May 30.—A council of the Lawn Tennis Association was held this afternoon to discuss the failure of the French association to give notice whether its team would meet the American team at Liverpool on Friday in the preliminary round for the Davis Cup.

It was decided to assume that the match had been abandoned and to cancel the tickets. France will also be informed of the intention of the association to inflict penalties in the future for the abandonment of matches. The American players will now proceed to practice at Wimbledon preparatory to playing the Australians at Newport in June.

GUATEMALAN REBELS HOPELESSLY BEATEN

Senor Don Jorge Munoz, Guatemalan minister, today received a dispatch from his government stating that the revolution had been completely crushed.

BOMBS THROWN AT RUSSIAN GENERAL

ST. PETERSBURG, May 30.—Advices from Kutais, Transcaucasia, state that two bombs were thrown today at General Alkhonoff, former governor general of the province, while he was driving to the railway station. General Alkhonoff was wounded in the thigh.

One by-stander was killed by the explosions, and three others were injured. The would-be assassins escaped.

MAN WANTED HERE HELD IN NEW YORK

Hackett, Alias Haines, Charged With Robbing Landlady and Swindling Merchants.

Captain Boardman today received a dispatch from the New York police stating that Hackett, alias E. R. Haines, had been arrested there. Detective Grant, of the Central Office, will leave Washington this afternoon to go to New York city for the prisoner.

It is alleged by Mrs. Charlotte J. Wood, of 215 New Jersey avenue northwest, that on May 25 Hackett rented a room from her and afterward stole $40 from the desk in her parlor. She says he represented himself to be a son of a former Secretary of the Navy and said he was independently wealthy. The police say he obtained about $100 worth of goods from local merchants on the strength of his alleged relationship.

There was an amusing scene at the opera house, Convent Garden, the other day during one of the early Wagnerian performances, which began at 8 o'clock and ended at 11 or later. The majority of people do not know what to wear on these sacred occasions and the result is chaos.

Mrs. George Cornwallis West (formerly Lady Randolph Churchill, nee Jerome) was quite decided about the matter. She rolled into the stalls wearing an enormous hat covered with feathers and perched at the fashionable angle of forty-five degrees. At the back of the hat, and attached to it, was a bunch of false curls to match her dark hair—also the latest fashion.

For a long time she sat in the row behind, who had come without hats in high blouses, tried to be patient, but at length they broke out into a hostile demonstration and called upon Mrs. West in one loud voice to remove her headgear.

For a long time Mrs. West preserved a dignified calm, but at length she, too, lost patience and, turning round, loudly remarked: "When the lights go out I may possibly oblige you, but not before." She had remembered the bunch of curls. But she took off her hat in the dark part.

RUSSIAN STEAMER SINKS; 65 PERSONS DROWNED

The first, second and third sections of the bill as it passed the House will be unchanged. The fourth section will be materially changed in the matter of graduating the scale of salaries to be paid teachers.

As the bill goes to the Senate teachers in high schools will be given a minimum salary of $1,000 a year. The maximum salary will not be changed. Several changes will be made in the sections covering the holding of board meetings, the control of schools, and the method of electing administrators.

The District appropriation bill will also be reported by Senator Gallinger tomorrow.

The salaries paid to these employes was $54,364,547.82.

Burnett, of Monmouth, Ill., was defeated for general secretary of the United States People's Society at the United Presbyterian General Assembly, now in session here. The Rev. W. W. Lawrence, of Bellevue, Ill., was substituted in his place.

ENGLISHERS AWAY FROM AMERICANS

Lavish Entertainment For Couple in London.

HOSTESSES ON QUI VIVE

Every One Will Keep Open House for President's Daughter and Son-in-Law.

LONDON, May 30.—Nearly every American hostess of note is "lying in wait" for Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, who is expected to reach Dorchester House, the American ambassador's house, in Park Lane, on June 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Longworth will be received not only by the King in private audience, but by the Queen, who has all along taken an immense interest in the young couple.

Among the comparatively new American hostesses who will entertain this season are Mrs. Francis J. Leggett, of New York, and Mrs. Charles Wheeler, of Philadelphia.

Mrs. Leggett has the same house which she took last year in Bruton street, and is entering a cotillion later on. Mrs. Wheeler has not quite decided on a house, but it will be somewhere in Mayfair. Her daughter is married to Count Phipps, and lives on the Isle of Wight. Mrs. Wheeler intends to have her daughter with her most of the time.

King Death Rumor.

The real facts about the recent scare caused by the rumor that King Edward had died suddenly in Paris, have only just been set out. Many persons, of course, jumped to the conclusion that the rumor was spread by people interested in sending the prices of government stock down on the stock exchange, but the actual facts are as follows:

A business man named Joseph King, who was fairly well known in Paris and London business circles, dropped dead in the French capital from heart failure. His friends at once wired his agents in London the words, "King died suddenly this afternoon." The lady clerk who opened the telegram at once told every one in the office that the King was dead.

The rumor spread in an incredibly short time throughout the business quarter and the next morning there was almost a panic in the newspaper offices and a distinct slump on the exchange.

These facts were gathered at the earnest request of the King himself, who was very much disturbed about the matter, and insisted on knowing how the report had arisen.

Remembered False Curls.

There was an amusing scene at the opera house, Convent Garden, the other day during one of the early Wagnerian performances, which began at 8 o'clock and ended at 11 or later. The majority of people do not know what to wear on these sacred occasions and the result is chaos.

Mrs. George Cornwallis West (formerly Lady Randolph Churchill, nee Jerome) was quite decided about the matter. She rolled into the stalls wearing an enormous hat covered with feathers and perched at the fashionable angle of forty-five degrees. At the back of the hat, and attached to it, was a bunch of false curls to match her dark hair—also the latest fashion.

For a long time she sat in the row behind, who had come without hats in high blouses, tried to be patient, but at length they broke out into a hostile demonstration and called upon Mrs. West in one loud voice to remove her headgear.

For a long time Mrs. West preserved a dignified calm, but at length she, too, lost patience and, turning round, loudly remarked: "When the lights go out I may possibly oblige you, but not before." She had remembered the bunch of curls. But she took off her hat in the dark part.

Dunraven's Bad Luck.

The Earl of Dunraven, whose efforts to win the America's Cup New Yorkers will not soon forget, has sustained one blow after the other of late.

The deaths of his two daughters were a great sorrow to him. Fortunately, his surviving daughter, Lady Ellen Wyndham-Quinn, is so devoted to her parents that she positively refuses to think of marriage.

Lord Dunraven's latest blow is a very large pecuniary loss. He invested a fortune in an American printing concern, which came to grief, and this loss has seriously crippled his capital.

He has always lived in great state, is an excellent and lavish landlord and has no fewer than three large estates—One Adare Manor in Ireland, another in Wales, and the third near London.

On the first named he has spent vast sums of money and has even lately employed a famous landscape gardener and architect to further beautify it. In Ireland it is freely stated that the heir, who is a nephew, will succeed to a very much decreased property.

The "Teck Frown."

Notwithstanding the immense fuss made over the Prince of Wales' return from his historic Indian tour the reception accorded to his royal highness can only be described as lukewarm. Somehow, the man in the street does not take to either the prince or princess, and yet the members of his household are devoted to both of them. They say that both he and the princess are the kindest and most considerate couple.

Unfortunately they are both distinctly shy and the princess has what is known as the "Teck frown," which is only a fortification of the eyebrows peculiar to her family.

The prince's health is in no way benefited by his tour. Although brown and apparently healthy he is not nearly so robust as his father. He constantly takes stimulating drugs, especially when he has to make a speech, and, although not a consumptive, he is very much troubled by a constant cough.

The prince brought no fewer than fifty-six cases of cholera from India. Some of his hunting trophies, like the tiger skins and antelope heads, are going to Osborne, the favorite home of Victoria, which has now been turned into a royal naval college for cadets.

FROM A LUNATIC ASYLUM.

In Belgian lunatic asylums there are securely locked boxes in which inmates may deposit letters of complaint. These letters are collected three times weekly by outside officials, who investigate every case, and if a person asserts that he is insane a prompt examination ensues by medical experts.

BAD COIN OUTFIT NOT WORTH WHILE

Italian Counterfeiters' Queue Wouldn't Fool a Baby, Wilkie Says.

HOSTESSES ON QUI VIVE

Chief Wilkie came pretty near supplying the Capital City with a real live counterfeiters' sensation when he arrested Pasquale Peruccio and Vincenzo Falgarano, two Italians living in Ivy City, on the charge of making and having in their possession materials for counterfeiting the coin of the United States.

The chief stated this morning that the reports of the arrest and facts had been greatly exaggerated, and that the men had never made a single counterfeit coin with their outfit. He said that the outfit was very crude, consisting for the most part of two molds which were not capable of counterfeiting a coin which would fool a two-year-old baby.

"No doubt, they may have perfected their outfit after a time," said Chief Wilkie, "but no danger could be expected from them at the present time."

ELOPED YEAR AGO, SECRET JUST OUT

That Love Will Find a Way Demonstrated Again:

That love will find a way was again demonstrated today, with the happy sequel that two young lovers, whose romantic story tells of a midnight flight to Rockville, Md., a wedding ceremony in the dim light of midnight, and a heart secret kept from their friends for fourteen months, have just announced their runaway marriage of March 22, 1905, and have received parental blessings from both sides, and are now the recipients of congratulations from scores of interested and surprised friends.

The young lovers in question, who have thus surprised their parents and friends are John J. Moser, of 26 Rhode Island avenue northeast, son of Rev. Jacob S. Moser, and Miss Camille A. Pfizer, daughter of Mrs. Adele Pfizer.

The couple, who were married in the Land Office, whose home is at the Farragut apartment, Mr. Moser, who is employed in the office of Stone & Fairfax, has been the devoted admirer of Miss Pfizer for the past two years, but neither the parents nor the friends of the young couple suspected that they intended a hasty marriage until the news was broken today by Mr. Moser.

Although the news was entirely unexpected to Mrs. Pfizer, she took it with all the grace of a found mother and has insisted that the young couple begin their early married life with her at the Farragut. The youthful groom's parents view the runaway match in the same light, and both father and mother have given their unstinted blessings.

The conferees on the railroad rate bill met at noon today with five members present. Senator Cullum was unable to attend. Chairman Knapp, of the Interstate Commerce Commission, was present, at the request of the conferees, to explain a considerable number of verbal amendments that have been put into the bill at the suggestion and request of the commission. Most of these have been adopted in the Senate without opposition on the statement that they represented the judgment of the commission, and the conferees desired to make sure exactly what was intended.

CONFERENCE HELD OVER RATE BILL

The conferees on the railroad rate bill met at noon today with five members present. Senator Cullum was unable to attend. Chairman Knapp, of the Interstate Commerce Commission, was present, at the request of the conferees, to explain a considerable number of verbal amendments that have been put into the bill at the suggestion and request of the commission. Most of these have been adopted in the Senate without opposition on the statement that they represented the judgment of the commission, and the conferees desired to make sure exactly what was intended.

The conferees were in session about two hours yesterday, considering mainly the various minor amendments to which no objection is likely to be raised, and going over the verbiage of the bill. The "Jim Crow" car amendment, which was offered by Senator Warner of Missouri, has been the subject of some discussion, but Southern members are confident it will not be changed.

SENATE PREPARES TO EXPEL BURTON

On Friday the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections expects to report a resolution for the expulsion of Senator Burton of Kansas from the Senate. This action will be taken unless in the meantime, the Senator, who is under sentence, places his resignation in the hands of the Governor of Kansas.

If he does this, it is understood that immediate action toward the acceptance of the resignation has been arranged. There will be no opportunity for Mr. Burton after the adjournment of Congress, to send a second letter, canceling that resignation.
